Research staff of the European COST action Nanouptake and specialised industries meet to promote the use of nanofluids.

23/02/2019 | SCP

Representatives of more than twelve research institutions from the European network Nanouptake (www.nanouptake.eu), led by the Universitat Jaume I, and representatives of four industries, have met this month in Birmingham (United Kingdom) to analyze the progress of the project and promote joint objectives.

In addition, the next activities for the last period of the project have been decided, with a special focus on the organization of the 1st International Conference on Nanofluidics (ICNf2019) and the 2nd European Symposium on Nanofluidics (ESNf2019) to be held in Castellón (Spain) from 26 to 28 June 2019 (<http://www.icnf2019.com/>).
